

REMIUS

STRAIGHT BOURBON WHISKEY

This bourbon is crafted as a tribute to bootlegger George Remus, who smuggled bourbon during Prohibition, in Lawrenceburg, Indiana. It is blended from 5 to 7-year-old bourbons, all of which have been aged in charred American white oak barrels. Remus Straight Bourbon Whiskey is bottled without chill filtration, at a drinking strength of 47% ABV (94 proof).

The bouquet is dominated by sweet vanilla, maple syrup, and cinnamon. These impressions are complemented by hints of caramel, cherry, and cream, which give the bourbon a creamy feel even on the nose. On the palate, maple syrup and vanilla once again combine with intense rye notes to create a sweet liaison, ending in a subtly spicy finish.
